3. Public tender conditions

(3) The project proposal may not be altered. The organization is obliged to inform the provider in writing of any changes that took place between the submission of the project proposal and the potential conclusion of an agreement or issuing of a decision on provision of support for the project and which affect its legal status or information required to demonstrate eligibility, or information which could influence the evaluation of the project, or information that could influence the course of the public tender, within 7 calendar days from the day that the organization learned of such facts. In case the changes could influence the course of the public tender (i.e. they are changes to those parts of the project proposal that are the subject of evaluation under Articles 4.2. to 4.4. of this tender document), the discipline committee shall state whether such a fact provides a ground for excluding the project proposal from the public tender and the GACR Presidium shall decide whether to keep or exclude the public proposal from the public tender. Substantial changes of the project proposal, in particular, changes of the applicant, organization, project aims and subject, are not permitted and always justify the exclusion of the project from the public tender.

(4) The organization may withdraw from the public tender at any time by notifying the provider of this fact via data mailbox with the title Czech Science Foundation with the identifier "a8uadk4".

(5) The provider may cancel the public tender call under the conditions defined by the provisions of § 24 para. (1) to (4) of Act No. 130/2002 Coll.

(6) Organizations have no right to compensation for costs associated with their participation in the public tender.

3.1 General conditions for submitting proposals

(1) Use of the texts of other authors in the project proposal must be supported by a bibliographic citation in the format of ČSN ISO 690, or according to the citation practices of the given field. Use of reproduced text without citation is a gross violation of the respected standards of academic work and the conditions of this tender document and provides grounds for exclusion of the project proposal from the public tender.

(2) EXPRO is a scientific project in the field of basic research, the scientific aim (aims) and methods of which the organization (applicant) sets in the project proposal.

(3) Only one organization may be stated in the project proposal and maximum one co-organization.

(4) Single person can participate within EXPRO and JUNIOR STAR public tenders in the given calendar year only in one project in the role of applicant and in one project in the role of co-applicant.

Violation of this condition shall result in the exclusion of all project proposals in this public tender, in which this applicant or co-applicant is stated in one of these positions.

Single person can participate in the given year only in one EXPRO project (in the role of investigator or co-investigator).

Applicant or co-applicant of the EXPRO project may also participate in the given calendar year as applicant or co-applicant in the public tender for support of standard projects and international bilateral projects. In case of being successful in more public tenders announced by GACR in the given year, it may participate only in carrying out the EXPRO project, only in the JUNIOR STAR project or only in the standard project (or two standard projects, or standard and international bilateral project), or only in the international bilateral project (or two international bilateral projects, or international bilateral project and standard project); for standard and international bilateral projects, provided the conditions set out in Article 3.1. para. (4) of the Tender document for standard or international projects are met, one person can participate in carrying out up to two projects in these two public tenders - one in the role of investigator and the other in the role of co-investigator).

For the submission of the proposal, the necessary condition for the applicant is to be an internationally recognized scientific personality and author (co-author) of recent top publications with a demonstrable high response in the international scientific community. The previous activity of the applicant as the principal investigator of the project provided by the national or supranational provider is also evaluated.

(6) The project proposal forms are available exclusively on the provider's website at <http://www.gacr.cz> in the web application created for this purpose (hereinafter the "application"). The provider shall only consider a project proposal to be such a proposal that is created in the application and sent via the data mailbox information system (ISDS) to the data mailbox entitled Grant Projects (Czech Science Foundation) with the identifier "ntq92qs". After finalization in the application, the project proposal will be affixed with an electronic seal, thus it may no longer be altered in any way. The electronic seal ensures for the project the proof of origin of each received document (the document was created in the application and record of it is kept there), security of data immutability (the applicant has not changed the figures or other texts in the PDF and the document thus corresponds to the relevant data in the application) and the electronic seal also stores information that precisely identifies version of the project proposal. The submitted version of the project proposal shall be the version that was last to arrive via the data mailbox specified in this paragraph before the end of the tender period – it may not necessarily be the last version of the project proposal in the application.

Project proposals for which the application's electronic seal has been removed or replaced with another shall be excluded from the public tender. Only attachments specified in Article 3.2 para. (15) of this tender document and which are required for the given project shall be attached to the project proposal in the application. Attachments are to be submitted in the application in PDF format. Only the project proposal generated by the application without attachments is delivered by data mailbox, as a PDF file, containing the project proposal with the watermark FINAL and a file name containing the characters "_CZ_f.pdf".

(7) As part of the tender only a complete project proposal marked FINAL may be submitted. Incompleteness of the project proposal or submission of anything other than the version marked in this manner is a reason for its exclusion from the public tender.

(8) By submitting a project proposal, the organization confirms that it is familiar with the tender document and undertakes to abide by the provisions thereof, in particular that:

- a) the applicant is in an employment relationship with the organization or such relationship will be established no later than the date of the grant project launch;

e) co-organization, applicant, co-applicant and professional and other co-workers stated in the project proposal have been acquainted with the substantial content of the project proposal as well as the financial requirements specified therein, and with the tender document;

i) it consents that the data stated in the project proposal were used for the provider's internal needs and published to the extent laid down by Act No. 130/2002 Coll., and the tender document;

j) in case an agreement is concluded or a decision on support provision issued for carrying out the grant project, it shall be governed during the project by the conditions for carrying out grant projects stated in Attachment 4 of this tender document;

following conclusion of agreement on grant project support, it shall secure co-financing of the given grant project in accordance with the submitted project proposal;

(9) The organization acknowledges the fact that in case of failure to meet the conditions stipulated in para. (4) If the project proposal requests supply or supplies from a single supplier for a total value over 500 000 CZK over the whole duration of the grant project, it is necessary to submit the offer with identification of the supplier, the subject of supply and the preliminary price, including a justified calculation of the bid price in total and for individual supplies. The actual price may not be more than 10% higher than the original bid price. At the same time at least two other competing bids for the same supply shall be submitted including justification for the selection. Competing offers are not submitted in cases where the selected supplier is the sole supplier offering supply of the required parameters necessary for carrying out the grant project. This fact is to be mentioned in the commentary attached to the bid. In the event that the organization has concluded a framework contract for the required type of delivery, this framework contract instead of offers shall be attached.

(5) The supplier of the procured property or services (including publishing of project’s results) may not be the investigator, co-investigator or other employee of the beneficiary or other project participant or person associated (within the meaning of § 23 para. Supplies realized in the form of internal supply are eligible if they do not exceed the conventional prices for the place and time and are charged in accordance with the legislation.

(6) The project proposal must state the proposed rate of support. The decision on the final amount of allowed costs and rate of support for the allowed costs lies with the provider, based on the evaluation of the project proposal.

(2) The amount of eligible personnel costs for persons (applicant, co-applicant, professional co-workers, other collaborators) taking direct part in carrying out the project must correspond to the beneficiary's (or other participant's) internal regulations or through other demonstrable means, and simultaneously must correspond to the workload (FTE) expended on the grant project. For the purpose of establishing the amount of eligible personnel costs in the project proposal, remuneration under § 134 of the Labour Code, targeted remuneration under § 134a of the Labour Code and other similar remuneration shall not be considered as a part of the wage or salary, including variable components, convalescence leave pay and temporary incapacity compensation (hereinafter "wage"). Failure to meet this condition shall be a reason for exclusion of the project proposal from the public tender.

(3) Zero workload (FTE) is not permitted. Failure to meet this condition shall be a reason for exclusion of the project proposal from the public tender. The sum of all workloads (FTEs) allocated for all projects supported by GACR may not exceed 1.00 for a single employee.

The working capacity of the project (workload) is set at a minimum of 0.50 of average annual workload for the person of the applicant, co-applicant, for each professional and other professional co-worker. This requirement does not apply to technical and administrative staff, undergraduate and graduate students. The applicant (and subsequently the investigator) is assumed that the time spent in the organization's (subsequently beneficiary's) workplace in the project implementation corresponds to the amount of his/her workload. The applicant (subsequently the investigator) must be in an employment relationship, resp. subsequently carries out a grant project at a workplace in the Czech Republic.

(4) The requested and provided subsidy for the personnel costs may not exceed the amount of approved costs. Its amount may be zero.

(5) The following costs are eligible personnel costs (only one option may be used for each employee):

a) for the relevant part of the wages as per para. (2) of this article for those employees carrying out the grant project based on an employment contract, in the amount corresponding with the workload in conducting the project. In such a case the subsidy requested in the project proposal may achieve the amount of gross salary or wage of the employee (prorated based on the employee's FTE);

b) for the payment of commitments from agreements on work performed outside of employment that were concluded exclusively for conducting the grant project, the amount of subsidy for these other personnel costs may be maximum 7% of the total subsidy for personnel costs.

(6) Under personnel costs it is possible to include the costs for the compulsory legal deductions and contribution to the fund of cultural and social needs (or another similar fund) or the proportionate amount thereof (unless such a fund is made up of allocations from profit) in an amount corresponding to the relevant personnel costs. The maximum possible amount of subsidy provided for such costs is set at an amount corresponding to the subsidy for the relevant personnel costs.

(7) For the applicant, co-applicant and professional co-workers remunerated according to para. (1) of this article, the project proposal shall include the name and surname of the worker (see Article 2.1 (9) of this tender document), other professional co-workers shall be designated as student or postdoc, as well as the workload (FTE) and the corresponding amount of requested subsidy. For other collaborators, only the workload (FTE) and corresponding amount of required subsidy shall be stated.

3.3.2 Investment Costs (costs for procuring tangible and intangible assets)

(1) Costs for acquiring tangible fixed assets (devices, machinery, equipment, separate movable items or sets of movable items with an independent technical-economic purpose and other tangible fixed assets that were acquired for consideration, by conversion or created through own activities where the purchase price is higher than 40 000 CZK and the operational-technical function is longer than one year) and intangible assets (software and other intangible fixed assets that were acquired for consideration, by conversion or created through own activities where the purchase price is higher than 60 000 CZK and the period of use is longer than one year) which are necessary for carrying out the grant project and are purchased and used in the direct connection with the grant project may be included among the eligible costs.

(2) In the case of acquiring tangible fixed assets (the purchase price is higher than 40 000 CZK and the operational-technical function is longer than one year) and of acquiring intangible fixed assets (the purchase price is higher than 60 000 CZK and the operational-technical function is longer than one year) with the operational-technical function longer than the period for which the assets are to be used for carrying out the grant project, the amount of eligible cost shall be established at most in the amount of the depreciation with the formula: $U(N) = (A/B) \times C \times D$, whereby $U(N)$ is the eligible costs, A the period for which the assets are to be used for carrying out the project, B is the period of operational-technical function (in accordance with Act No. 563/1991 Coll., on accounting, as amended, and Act No. 586/1992 Coll., on income tax, as amended; if the operational-technical function determined by these regulations differs, the longer operational-technical function is to be used for the purpose of determining the amount of the eligible costs), C is the purchase price of the equipment and D is the percentage of its use for the grant project.

(3) In the case of acquiring tangible and intangible fixed assets with the operational-technical function equal to the duration of the grant project or shorter, the eligible costs shall be established using the formula: $U(N) = C \times D$, whereby the symbols $U(N)$, C and D have the same meaning as in the similar formula in para. (2) of this article.

(4) Minor tangible and intangible assets with an operational-technical function of longer than one year and an input price lower than or equal to 40 000 CZK or 60 000 CZK respectively may be acquired under the item of material costs.

(5) Subsidy allocated to expenditures on obtaining tangible and intangible fixed assets, which is essential for the carrying out the project, must not be higher than 20% of the total subsidy allocated to approved costs as per Article 3.3.1 and 3.3.3 para (2) to (5) of this tender document for the whole duration of the project as stated in the agreement, or in the decision, respectively, on provision of targeted support.

3.3.3. Material costs

(1) The material costs that can be included among eligible costs are costs for materials, travel costs, intangible costs, costs for other services and additional (overhead) costs.

(2) Costs for materials are expenses used exclusively in direct connection with the grant project that can be documented with a separate supply document or in another objective manner (e.g. independent measurement) comprising the consumption of material (e.g. consumption of office and laboratory material, acquisition of minor tangible assets as per Article 3.3.2 para. (4) of this tender document purchased or procured through own activity as part of the project, scholarly literature), in exceptional and justified cases the consumption of energy and other non-storable supplies.

(3) Travel costs are expenses comprising all costs for work trips in accordance with the provisions of § 173 to 181 of Act No. 262/2006 Coll., the Labour Code, as amended, up to the amount laid down or allowed by this law, for the investigator, co-investigator and professional and other collaborators. These are costs incurred exclusively in direct connection with the grant project including working stays and trips made in connection with active participation at conferences. These are also the travel expenses and costs for stays associated with the participation of foreign employees taking part in the grant project. In the case of work trips abroad, these include only the costs for the length of stay that corresponds to the duration of the event for which the worker was dispatched.

(4) Costs for other services and non-material costs are expenses used exclusively for carrying out the grant project that can be documented by a separate supply document or in another objective manner, including costs: for the operation, repair and maintenance of assets used during the project; procuring of minor intangible assets as per Article 3.3.2. para. (4) of this tender document purchased or procured through own activity as part of the project; costs for additional services, e.g. orders. It is also possible to include among other services costs for publishing results (publishing and editorial costs). Furthermore, conference fees, rental of venues for holding short-term events with scholarly output (e.g. conferences, seminars etc.), membership fees for institutions if membership is demonstrably necessary or cost-effective for carrying out the grant project; telecommunications with the exemption listed under Article 3.3. para. (8) d) of this tender document; other costs such as exchange rate losses, bank fees, taxes and fees tied exclusively to the grant project.

(5) Following costs are considered eligible: patent and licence payments for the exercise of industrial property rights that apply to the subjects of industrial property (e.g. patents, inventions, industrial designs, royalties for the use of copyrighted works) used in direct connection with the grant project and essential for carrying it out, solely for the period during which the industrial property rights are exercised for conducting the grant project (for the duration of the grant project at the longest). If the period of exercising the industrial property rights is longer than the period for which the rights are to be used for carrying out the grant project, the amount of eligible costs shall be established with the formula: $U(N) = (A/B) \times C \times D$, whereby $U(N)$ is the eligible costs, A the period for which the rights are to be used for carrying out the project, B is the period of operational-technical function (in accordance with Act No. 586/1992 Coll., on income tax, as amended), C is the purchase price of the rights and D is the percentage of its use for the grant project. For industrial property rights exercised for a period equal to the duration of the grant project or shorter, the eligible costs shall be established using the formula: $U(N) = C \times D$, where the symbols $U(N)$, C and D have the same meaning as in the previous formula in this paragraph.

(6) Eligible costs may include additional (overhead) costs incurred in direct substantial and time connection to carrying out the grant project assuming their expenditure contributed to realization of the project (e.g. administrative costs, costs for infrastructure, or other costs incurred during carrying out the project). The maximum amount of subsidy for additional (overhead) costs is 20% of the total approved subsidy for total approved costs listed under Article 3.3.1. and 3.3.3. para. (2) to (5) of this tender document, listed in the contract or decision on provision of targeted support. If no additional (overhead) costs are requested in the project proposal, they may not be included among the eligible costs.

4. Method of admission and selection of project proposals

(1) When admitting and evaluating project proposals, the procedure under § 21 of Act No. 130/2002 Coll. shall be followed.

(2) A project proposal may not be altered or amended in any way after the tender period has ended.

(3) Evaluation of project proposals is commenced no earlier than the day following the last day of the tender period.

(4) Evaluation of project proposals consists of:

a) admission of project proposals – carried out in accordance with § 21 para. (2) of Act No. 130/2002 Coll.; this follows immediately after the end of the tender period and is ended by a provider's decision of admission of the project proposals into the public tender or of their exclusion;

b) evaluation of the truthfulness, completeness and accuracy of the data in the project proposals, which includes a check of any contradictions between the data contained in the project proposals; follows a provider's decision of admission of the project proposals into the public tender or of their exclusion and takes place over the whole duration of the evaluation period;

In this case, the levy for breach of budgetary discipline will be 5% of the total amount of the subsidy.

(4) The provider in the final evaluation of grant projects after the completion of their implementation in accordance with § 13 para. (4) of Act No. 130/2002 Coll. assesses the achievement of the aims set out in the contract or the decision on targeted support provision, the achieved results of the project, their relation to the project aims, and provides information about them in the information system of research, experimental development and innovation according to Government Regulation No. 397/2009 Coll.

However, in the following interim financial report, the beneficiary must justify these changes in the part DB Justification - Breakdown. The changes or transfers must be proven to be effective, economical, efficient and supported by approved activities and must prove that they fulfil the conditions of support specified in Act No. 130/2002 Coll. and in the tender document. If the beneficiary does not properly prove the justification of the changes or transfers referred to in the previous sentence, the provider has the right not to approve them and to apply sanctions according to the contract or decision on the support provision.

(4) If the provider grants the beneficiary's request under para. (3) a) of this Article, it shall be proceeded according to Article 5.1. para (3) of this attachment, provided that if the beneficiary rejects

(5) If the provider grants the beneficiary's request under para. (3) b) of this Article, the rights and obligations in carrying out the grant project shall be transferred from the existing additional participant to the new additional participant by a separate trilateral agreement between the beneficiary, the existing additional participant and the new additional participant. At the same time, an amendment to the contract on the support provision is concluded between the provider and the beneficiary. If the beneficiary refuses the draft amendment to the contract on the support provision or the original or new additional participant rejects the draft trilateral agreement on the transfer of rights and obligations in the carrying out the grant project, the provider is entitled to terminate the contract on the support provision without notice. The same procedure shall apply in the case of issuing a new decision on the support provision. An agreement on the settlement of the assets obtained from the grant funds during the previous implementation concluded between the existing additional participant and the new additional participant is an integral part of the trilateral agreement between the beneficiary, the existing additional participant and the new additional participant. If the existing and the new additional participant do not agree, the provider is entitled to terminate the contract on the support provision without notice.

5.3. Procedure of change of beneficiary

(1) In the event of circumstances, under which it will not be possible to achieve adequate results and efficiency in carrying out the grant project at the beneficiary's workplace specified in the contract on the provision of the targeted support or in the decision on the provision of the targeted support, the existing beneficiary, the new organization and the project investigator can together request a change of beneficiary. This proposal must also include the settlement of all property rights incurred in the project, including rights to research results;

(h) full demonstration of the competence of the new organization;

(i) a contract for the assignment of the contract on provision of the targeted support with a precedent condition for the entry into force of such a contract by approval of that request.

(2) The change of the beneficiary must not change the content of the contractual relationship established on the basis of the contract, or the decision to provide a grant to support the project.

(3) The purpose of the approval process for the change of beneficiary will be primarily to verify that the new organization meets the legal requirements for the eligibility of the organization in the same way as in the case of checking these conditions in the public tender, i.e. the new organization must prove legal capacity in full extent.

(4) The purpose of the approval process of the change of beneficiary will be to subsequently verify whether the new organization is able to provide the investigator and his team members with the same or better institutional and technical facilities for the project. The new organization has to prove that if it were the organization in the original public tender, the project would achieve exactly the same or better ranking in the order of the selected projects. To this end, the GACR Presidium will seek the opinion of the main project rapporteur.

(5) The GACR Presidium shall review the request and decide without undue delay, usually at the next meeting of the GACR Presidium. The GACR Presidium is entitled to request the fulfilment of additional conditions or to request further documentation for the assessment of such request.

(6) If the provider complies with the request submitted pursuant to para. The same procedure shall apply in the case of issuing a new decision on provision of the targeted support.

(7) If the provider does not comply with the request submitted pursuant to para. (1) of this Article, the provider shall be entitled to terminate the contract on provision of the targeted support without notice or annul the decision on provision of the targeted support.

Attachment 7 – Definition of types of outcomes

J - peer reviewed article

Article in a specialist journal is an original, or review article published in a professional periodical (journal) regardless of the publisher's state, which presents the original research outcomes carried out by the author or the team, of which the author was a member, and whose stated affiliation relates to a Czech research organization. These are comprehensive texts of works classified according to the requirements of publishers of the periodical on the structure of scientific work (most often summary, introduction, material and methods, outcomes, discussion, conclusion, literature review) with the usual way of citing sources, possibly with notes. In the professional periodical, these types of articles are usually included in the content into the group of original or review reports.

A professional periodical means a reviewed scientific journal with a scientific editorial that is published or was published periodically, is assigned only the ISSN or e-ISSN code and is published in printed, printed and electronic, or only in electronic form, including on-line publication.

Articles in a specialized periodical are classified as following:

- Jimp – original / review article in a specialized periodical, that is included in the Web of Science database with the flag “Article”, “Review”, or “Letter”;
- Jsc - original / review article in a specialized periodical, that is included in the Scopus database with the flag “Article”, “Review”, or “Letter”;
- Jost - original / review article in a specialized periodical, that does not belong to any above-mentioned group and meets general conditions of article in a specialist periodical. The list of specialized non-impacted periodicals shall not be used.

The following are not specialist periodical:

- periodicals that do not have ISSN, nor e-ISSN;
- periodicals or extraordinary periodicals published with the ISSN and also concurrently with the ISBN in book form (these cases often occur with conference papers, which are registered in WoS and Scopus databases. Outcomes published in this type of source belong to outcomes of type D);
- periodicals for which the method of review management of contributions is not being published or does not occur;
- periodicals of character of daily or newspaper press, i.e. regular daily press, thematic “popular-professional” supplements to daily press, weekly newspapers, specialized newspapers (e.g. Zdravotnické noviny, Hospodářské noviny, Učitelské noviny etc.);
- non-fiction periodicals intended for the general public, published by commercial publishers, public and other institutions;
- popularizing journals intended for the wider professional public, e.g. published by professional societies, scientific institutions etc., in order to promote and popularize science;
- periodicals of trade unions, political parties, associations etc.;
- business and insurance periodicals;
- forms and newsletters;
- special issues of journals in which texts of conference papers are published.

The following are not article in a specialist periodical:

- reprints, abstracts, extended abstracts (e.g. at conferences) etc., even if published in a specialist periodical, articles of an informative or popularizing character on research outcomes;
- editorial materials, corrections, reviews, researches and summaries, even if published in a specialist periodical;
- a preprint article, i.e. the version of the article published before the review process;
- for Jost articles with less than 2 pages of text: photos, charts, map attachments, images, tables, and advertisements are not included in the page range.

B – monograph

A monograph presents original research outcomes, that has been carried out by the author of the book or by a team of authors, of which the author was a member. A book is a non-periodical professional publication with a range of at least 50 printed pages of own text without photographic, pictorial, map etc. attachments published in print or electronically and assessed (reviewed) by at least one generally recognized expert in the respective field in the form of a lecture report (but not from the author's workplace). It concerns a well-defined problem in a particular scientific field, includes the formulation of an identifiable and scientifically recognized methodology (explicitly formulated methodological bases and/or formulation of a new methodology based on previous theoretical research in the field). The formal attributes of a monograph are references to literature in the text, a list of used literature, possibly notes and bibliography of sources and a summary in at least one world language.

The book has an assigned ISBN or ISMN. The whole book is created by a unified collective of authors (regardless of the share of individual members of the collective of authors in the content), even if the individual chapters of the book have separate authorship. Monographs are e.g. scholarly encyclopedias and lexicons, critical editions of sources, critical editions of art (music, art etc.) materials accompanied by studies, critical commented translation of demanding philosophical, historical or philological texts accompanied by studies, scientifically designed dictionary and professional dictionary, a critical exhibition catalogue etc., provided that they meet the formal criteria set out above.

For a multi-volume scientific monograph, each volume can be recognized as an output (and included in the RIV) if each one individually meets the required criteria and has been published as a separate publication with its own ISBN. If a monograph is recognized (and classified in RIV) as an outcome of type B, its chapters cannot be recognized (and classified in RIV) as an outcome of type C for the same submitter.

The following are not monograph:

- books that do not have an assigned ISBN or neither ISMN;
- teaching texts (i.e. textbooks, coursebooks);
- expert opinions and stances, studies, translations, manuals, information and promotional publications, yearbooks (except for those that meet the requirements of a monograph), annual or similar periodic reports;
- common language dictionaries;
- printed or electronically published research summaries, purpose-made summaries of specialist papers (e.g. within one workplace);
- printed or electronically published abstract summaries, or extended abstracts or oral communication from conferences;

- methodological manuals, catalogues and standards;
- proceedings (individual contributions in the proceedings may be an outcome of type D);
- fiction, non-fiction, travelogues, texts of theatre plays;
- selective bibliographies, annual reports, speeches, reports, collections of students' competition papers, tourist guides;
- commercial translations from foreign languages;
- memoirs, information materials, popularizing monographs, biographies, autobiographies, monographically issued final reports from grants or projects.

If the book is published in the Czech Republic, the legal deposit must be registered in the National Library of the Czech Republic. "Monograph" types of outcomes published abroad, are verified by a reference to a Digital Object Identifier (DOI) or Open Access (OA), traceability in an internationally recognized catalogue, or verification by a returnable borrowing from the reporting institution confirmed by the provider.

C – chapter in a monograph

A chapter in a monograph (if the book meets the definition of type B outcome) is applied in such a case, when the whole book has only an editor or in cases when the author is stated as a co-author (albeit with a minority share in the content) in the whole book (on title page, on the back of title page) and is a member of the team of authors with clearly identified main authors. However, the chapter needs to have an individual author or team of authors.

If the monograph is classified as a type B outcome in RIV, its chapters cannot be included as a type C outcome in the case of the same submitter.

D – article in proceedings registered in the Scopus database or in the Web of Science Conference Proceedings Citation database

An article in proceedings presents the original outcomes of the research carried out by the author or the team of which the author was a member. The article has the usual structure of scientific work with the usual way of citing resources (it is not an abstract or extended abstract) and is published in proceedings.

The proceedings are a reviewed non-periodical publication, published on the occasion of a conference, seminar or symposium, which contains separate articles by various authors, which have mostly a common element or related topic and have an assigned ISBN or ISSN, or both.

An "article in proceedings" type of outcome is a paper with a total range of at least 2 pages: photos, graphs, map attachments, pictures, tables and advertisements are not included in the page range.

An "article in proceedings" type of outcome is an article, which is registered

- in a Scopus database in sources ("Sources") of type of Book Series or Conference Proceedings and has either an assigned ISBN or an ISSN, or both;
- in the Web of Science Conference Proceedings Citation Index database and has an assigned ISBN or ISSN, or both;
- an article in a special issue of a journal registered in one of the above databases dedicated to the publication of conference papers.

The following is not an article in proceedings:

- occasionally published summaries of specialist papers (e.g. within one workplace, anniversaries, founding celebrations and annual conferences);
- collected and published abstracts or extended abstracts;
- sorted and published articles elsewhere etc.
